Prague and Amsterdam by plane

Come and explore these two stunning cities at your own pace. Prague, known as The City of One Hundred Towers and The Golden City, has the look and feel of a fairy tale where countless magical towers are home to patient princesses. The city is cloaked in an overtly medieval atmosphere capable of taking its visitors back to immemorial times and ensuring that they never forget how special a place it truly is. Amsterdam is another of the most atmospheric cities in Europe - when you're exploring the city's canals, surrounded by bikes, you genuinely are struck by just how unique a city it is. Amsterdam is an advanced city at the forefront of European culture with its shows, art and museums. Among its major museums are the superb Rijksmuseum, the Van Gogh Museum and the Anne Frank House.

Important remarks

- Triple rooms in Europe are generally rooms with twin beds or a double, in which a folding bed is installed to accommodate the third person. Due to the inconvenience this causes, we advise against using this option as far as possible.
- Check-in time at the hotel on the day of arrival depends on each establishment, but in no case will it be before 3:00 p.m., unless otherwise indicated.
- To avoid queues and crowds, you can book tickets to the most outstanding museums and exhibition halls online and in advance. We recommend trying to visit the museums early in the morning or in the afternoon. To obtain discounts on tickets and save yourself from having to queue, you can purchase cards such as the Holland Pass, the Museumkaart, the I Amsterdam City Card or the Rotterdam Welcome Card. Many museums offer special discounts for minors, students and pensioners.
- A credit card is considered a guarantee, so sometimes you will need one for check-in at hotels.
- Hotels usually have cots available. Otherwise, babies will have to share a bed with an adult.
- Consult the necessary documentation to enter the destinations visited and for transit in the countries where air stopovers are made.
