Ubud, Gili Islands and Lombok Beaches

Contemplate the beautiful rice terraces in Ubud, the cultural center of the Island of the Gods, discover its lively cultural life, its restaurants and its colorful craft shops.

The Gili Islands make up a small archipelago of three remote islands belonging to Indonesia, a vacation destination that has gained momentum in recent years. In the largest, Gili Trawangan, you can enjoy a great atmosphere, boat parties and dinners with unforgettable views. Gili Air, the second in size, is an ideal destination for diving and snorkeling among corals, exotic fish and turtles. The smallest, Gili Meno, is a true haven of peace, perfect for a total disconnection, to go as a couple or for a honeymoon. Do not miss its dreamy sunrises and sunsets, you will remember them forever.

The island of Lombok, located between Bali and Sumbawa, offers the best of Southeast Asia and Oceania in one destination. Presided over by the Rinjani volcano, which at 3,726 meters is the third highest mountain in Indonesia, it is home to a rich and exotic biodiversity, as well as practically deserted beaches and landscapes of great natural beauty. One of its greatest attractions is the seagrass beds, such as those that line the bottoms of Gerapuk Bay, a wonderful underwater ecosystem that you cannot miss.
