

French Polynesia, 12 Days · Tailor-made including beach holiday

Tahiti, Bora Bora and Tahaa

Beyond the seas, in the heart of French Polynesia, located in the South Pacific, lie the Îles de la Société (Society Islands), a French overseas territory in the form of an archipelago that includes some of the most beautiful islands on the planet. The largest is Tahiti, which encompasses some 1,042 km² of true earthly paradise. Discover the black sand beaches of the east coast, the white sand beaches of the west coast, the lush valleys, and the majestic circular peaks that make this destination a true journey to the center of nature. Don't miss its charming and enigmatic Aboriginal culture, such as its "marae," the pre-Christian sacred sites delimited by stones or wooden posts called "pair," its enchanting dance performances known as "ori," and its traditional music concerts. In its bustling capital, Papeete, you'll find everything from refined restaurants and nightclubs to vibrant and colorful markets, interesting museums, shops selling black pearls—one of the archipelago's star products—and all kinds of shops.

FOR COUPLES

EXOTIC

Known as the "romantic island," on Bora Bora you can admire the hibiscus trees on the hills and valleys of Mount Otemanu, enjoy perfect white-sand beaches, dive into the deep blue waters, discover one of the most beautiful lagoons on the planet, boasting infinite shades of blue and teeming with magically colored fish and coral... in short, the ideal place to rest and relax. And it's also home to a number of exciting activities, including snorkeling, scuba diving, fishing, cruises, jet skiing, kite surfing, paddleboarding, canoeing, 4x4 tours, hiking, and even an unforgettable helicopter flight!

Nestled within the Îles Sous-le-Vent (Leeward Islands), which are in turn part of the Îles de la Société (Society Islands) in French Polynesia, lies Tahaa, the definition of paradise on earth. With a total area of just 88 km², Tahaa is home to a veritable cocktail of landscapes dominated by Mount Ohiri, 590 meters high, as well as Polynesian atmospheres that have barely changed over the centuries. In the middle of a lagoon surrounded by an incredible barrier reef, this atoll offers endless possibilities for relaxation or activities such as seabed exploration, fishing, hiking, and more. The main village is Patio, a picturesque town of just a few thousand inhabitants and the center of its main industry, vanilla (in addition to tourism). Why did you think it's called "Vanilla Island"?

Important remarks

- Triple rooms in Oceania are generally rooms with twin beds or a double, in which a folding bed is installed to accommodate the third person. Due to the inconvenience this causes, we advise against using this option as far the possible.
- Check-in time at the hotel on the day of arrival depends on each establishment, but in no case will it be before 3:00 p.m., unless otherwise indicated.
- A credit card is considered a guarantee, so sometimes you will need one for check-in at hotels.
- Hotels usually have cots available. Otherwise, babies will have to share a bed with an adult.
- Consult the necessary documentation to enter the destinations visited and for transit in the countries where air stopovers are made.
