Lanzarote and Fuerteventura

Travel to the islands of Lanzarote and Fuerteventura to spend unforgettable days sheltered by the warmth of the eternal summer enjoyed by the Canary archipelago.

Lanzarote, known as the "island of volcanoes" due to its volcanic activity, stands out as a top-tier tourist destination with its renowned creator, the painter César Manrique, by combining art and nature with respect for the environment, making the island and its planning a benchmark for environmental awareness.

Discover Fuerteventura too, known as "the tranquil island". It is the second largest island in the Canaries archipelago and offers truly picturesque landscapes such as, for example, the legendary Tindaya Mountain, which the island's indigenous peoples believe to possess magic powers. Fuerteventura has 13 official protected natural areas. This island is a very exotic place, with lush palm trees, salt cedar trees and aloe vera which is used to make many traditional and cosmetic products that are extremely good for the skin.
